

Thank you for doing such a fine job of supporting the "good ol' boys network." This was another huge step in world-domination and one-world-style government, a la "1984" (Orwell was just off by a couple of decades). How does it feel to sell out your grandkids' future? Probably just fine, since you've got the President's protection, eh? That makes it all ok, doesn't it? Think (just for a second) about what it will be like to have the last free individuals die knowing that Michael Powell sold them out!
